Oswestry based wedding photographer covering Oswestry, Chirk, Welshpool, Shrewsbury, and Wrexham

Choosing the right photographer for your wedding is an important decision. I have many years of experience of producing high quality and creative images and take each individual wedding as an opportunity to create much more than just a collection of photographs.

My style of photography is relaxed, informal and contemporary reportage. Traditional style wedding photographs of the couple and groups can easily be included in your portfolio and you will be consulted as to the final style you wish to be presented with. All photographs are shot in colour but can be changed to black and white or sepia upon request.

E-mail or telephone to check availability for your wedding date and we can then meet to discuss your individual needs. Please enquire about bespoke packages, ranging from the most intimate registry office ceremony to the most lavish celebration. No wedding is too small or too large; it's your special day after all.
